

Registration Form:

More in the Bank, Less from the Environment™

Environmental Behavior Change Workshop

Tuesday, June 19th, 2012

To Register: Please fill in this form and send in by email to: susan@nurturedworld.org, by Fax to: (512) 301-1451, or mail to A Nurtured World 6404 Wilbur Drive, Austin, TX 78757. You may also call in your registration to Susan Roothaan at (512) 663-1496 or Lisa Lin with the Houston Green Office Challenge at (832) 393-0850.

This Workshop is FREE: There is no cost for this workshop as it is supported by a grant from the EPA, and partnerships with the City of Houston, and Houston ISD. However, it is important to register as there will be limited seating.

Name: _____

Title and Organization: _____

Telephone: _____

Email Address: _____

What do you want to accomplish from this workshop:

Please take the time to think specifically about what you want to accomplish!

Who Should Attend: This workshop is being specifically made available to members of the Houston Green Office Challenge, City of Houston employees, Houston ISD*, and the general public (both businesses/industry and community members). The workshop has broad applicability as it integrates both technical learning and learning how to be effective at changing ones own behavior and others' behavior. If you are interested in saving money and/or improving the environment (for yourself, community, school, or company) you will find this workshop useful. If you are attending to drive change in your community, school, or business, we encourage you to bring several people from your community.

* Materials have been adapted for schools, and teachers may request a teacher packet and curriculum to use in the classroom that has been adapted to educational standards (TEKS). Young adults (12 and older) may attend with a parent or guardian.